

Month Celebrating ~~Week~~ of the Young Child

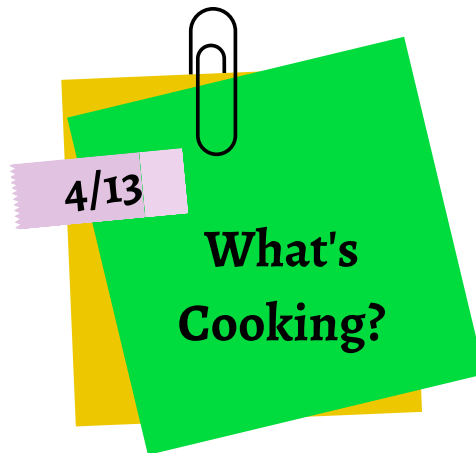

The Week of the Young Child is an annual celebration sponsored by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC), which spotlights the needs of young children and their families, while recognizing the programs that meet those needs.

Join us as we celebrate the entire month of April

SAVE THE DATES

Reading is extremely important for the neurological, educational, psychological and social health of children.

Cooking at an early age can boost confidence and teach basic math/science skills.

Active play is important for the physical and mental health of children and adults.

Dine at local restaurants and a portion of the proceeds will support CCCW services.

Infant/Toddler teachers will build on their understanding of nurturing, guiding and teaching infants & toddlers in the classroom.

Access to quality child care is essential. Come find out about the Council and how your advocacy efforts will strengthen our work.
