Welcoming Back Children to Your Program – What Does That Look Like?

Due to the COVID-19 stay-at-home mandate, we have been apart from the children in our care for quite some time. When children do return to their child care programs, what will they need and where do we begin? How do you work towards rebuilding relationships with children and families? We will explore how this might affect children's behavior and the importance of understanding children's strong feelings about the last months. We will examine how what we do and the daily routines and schedules we set can meet the current needs of children in a healthy and safe way. You will come away with a toolbox full of ideas that will help you to identify features of the environment that will help children and their families feel secure, welcome, and ready to learn again.

Extending Outdoor Play for Infants & Toddlers During the COVID-19 Pandemic

There has always been a variety of important reasons why young children should be outside as much as possible. Now, with COVID-19, there are even more reasons to get outside! When you are outside, fresh air is constantly moving, making you less likely to breathe in enough of the respiratory droplets containing the COVID-19 virus. The outdoors is also a great place to relieve stress. Come explore the benefits of extending outdoor play and learning for infants and toddlers. You, and your children, will be happier and healthier!

Modality - Age: C, FG – IT

¿Cómo se ve el “juego sensorial” durante la pandemia de COVID-19?

Los últimos meses han tenido un impacto serio en los niños, el personal de cuidado infantil y sus familias. Ahora que los programas se están reabriendo, hay nuevas recomendaciones, reglamentos y procedimientos a seguir. ¿Qué significa todo esto para el "juego sensorial"? ¿Cómo hacemos que este tipo de juego tan importante sea seguro y accesible para los niños pequeños? Venga y aprenda sobre los diferentes tipos de juego sensorial, por qué sigue siendo tan importante para el desarrollo de un niño y cómo hacerlo de manera segura en su salón de clases o en el espacio del programa.

Ampliación del juego al aire libre para grupos de edades mixtas durante la pandemia de COVID-19

Siempre ha habido una variedad de razones importantes por las que los niños pequeños deben estar afuera tanto como sea posible. Ahora, con COVID-19, ¡hay aún más razones para salir! Cuando está afuera, el aire fresco se mueve constantemente, lo que hace que sea menos probable que inhale suficientes gotitas respiratorias que contienen el virus COVID-19. El aire libre también es un gran lugar para aliviar el estrés. Venga a explorar los beneficios de extender el juego y el aprendizaje al aire libre para los niños bajo su cuidado. ¡Usted y sus hijos serán más felices y saludables!
